

Military & Draft Counselor Training

Learning to counsel youth on their legal options, rights and alternatives to military service

September 18, 2004, 10am -3pm

Lansing Community College (in Arts & Sciences Bldg.)
Lansing Michigan

Instructor, Michael Hovey has been involved in counseling both active duty and potential conscientious objectors since he was honorable discharged as a conscientious objector from the U.S. Navy in 1976, after five years of active duty and a series of visits to Nagasaki, Japan. He .

He has served as Executive Director of the Pax Christi Center on Conscience and War in Cambridge, Mass. His Ph.D. research examined the United Nations recognition of the universal human right of conscientious objection to military service. He has testified before the UN Human Rights Commission in Geneva, Switzerland on this issue three times. He has served on the Consultative Committee of the National Interreligious Service Board for Conscientious Objectors (NISBCO) and as Vice-Chair of the Board of Directors of the Center on Conscience and War. He is currently serving as Associate Director of Education, Office for Catholic Social Teaching, in the Archdiocese of Detroit.

Additional presentations will be conducted by military and draft counselors from Catholic Fellowship for Peace.

Draft Counselor's Manual (6th edition, 2002) published by the Center on Conscience and War will be used in this workshop. It is a 140 page text with 90 additional pages of appendix, including sample forms. It is highly recommended. You can order it when you register or order it directly from the Center at www.nisbco.org
